Sam will play it again

The Salisbury State Theatre will present Woody Allen's hilarious comedy, "Play It Again, Sam", for three performances only on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, September 7-9, at 8:30 P.M. in Caruthers Hall. These performances will be a revival of the popularly successful production which was staged at the College in July by the Salisbury Summer Theatre under the direction of Dr. Leland Starnes and designed by Robert K. Cloyd. While several important roles in the play have been recast, the production will remain fundamentally the same as that attended by hundreds of enthusiastic vacationers and Shore residents who were interested in the College's new experiment in Summer Theatre.

This revival of "Play It Again, Sam" has been arranged through considerable effort by the students and staff of the Department of Speech and Theatre in order to introduce new students and members of the faculty to the activities of the Salisbury State Theatre and to invite their participation in all aspects of production.

Ticket prices for "Play It Again, Sam" will be $1.00 for students and $2.50 for general admission. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Wroten at extension 254, at the box office in Caruthers Hall between 1:00 and 5:00, or at the door of the theatre at performance time.

As a result of your support of the Athletic Program through payment of your Athletic Fee, all full-time students are eligible to receive one free single game unreserved ticket in the center student section. These tickets may be picked up during the week preceding each home game beginning Mondays at Tawes Gym. RESERVED SEATS ARE GOING FAST!

There are still a few 30-35-yard line Reserved Season Football Tickets left in case any upperclassmen failed to reserve tickets in the Spring when our season ticket sales began. Also, Freshmen can still secure Reserved Season Tickets for their parents or friends. The price of these tickets for FIVE HOME GAMES is $10.00. If you pay the regular SINGLE game reserved seat price at the gate for parents or friends, the price is $3.00 (provided there are any tickets left after our advanced season ticket sale). These single game tickets may only be purchased the day of the game at the gate.

To be certain of Reserved Season Tickets, we urge you to act now. They may be purchased in the Public Relations Office, Holloway Hall, between the hours of 9 A.M. and Noon, and 1 P.M. and 4 P.M. Mondays through Fridays.

Attend Meeting

Dr. John Shope and Mr. A.K. Talbot attended the ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN SOCIOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION in New York City, August 26 to 30. Especially interesting were the sessions on the teaching of undergraduate Sociology and the place and need for graduate programs in Sociology.

Instructional Resources

The Office of Instructional Resources will remain in the Computer Center until further notice due to unforeseen delays in construction.

Meanwhile, if you have any problems or questions, Mr. Thompson can still be reached at Extension 253.

HEW Grant

Sociology begins the year with the announcement that the Department's plan to expand its program of teaching-by-involvement has received approval in terms of a HEW grant for the purpose of working with Sociology students in their contacts with service agencies in Maryland's nine Eastern Shore counties.

Mr. Harry Aldrich, MSW, will work in the upper five counties, and Ms. Renee Morris, MSW, in the lower four counties, under the program supervision of Mr. Tony Bandyk, MSW.

In their efforts to enrich the educational experience of the students, particularly those taking the Social Welfare Collateral, the faculty will conduct extension programs and on-the-job, in-service training institutes desired by local agencies.

Band Attends Summer Camp

On August 28, 1973 through August 31, 1973 65 members of the SSC Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Charles F. Smith, Jr., met at Camp Pe-Co-Meth in Church Hill, Maryland for three days of concentrated rehearsal and drill in preparation for this season's halftime presentations.

After an extensive drill period on marching fundamentals beginning at 8:45 each morning, the band worked on marching details of the Pre-Game and first halftime show as well as the music for both events and later shows. With time for swimming and canoeing for relaxation, the day closed at 9:45 after additional drills and indoor rehearsals.

Dr. Norman C. Crawford, Dr. Thomas L. Erskine, and Mr. Gordon Howatt of the college administration visited the camp on Thursday evening for a semi-polished performance of the first two shows.

The Marching Band will have an all-new look this year, both in marching style and uniforms. Over the summer, a full complement of beautiful black, maroon and gold uniforms were received and should be a fine addition to the visual highlights of the halftime entertainment. Those of you interested in exceptional musical presentations as well as great football, are strongly encouraged to get your tickets now.

Student-Run Production Under Way

Students will direct, design, and act in a production which was chosen by the Salisbury State Theatre in its October 3rd meeting. Students may participate in the designing of sets and costumes by contacting Dr. Leland Starnes at 272B HH or Carol Solomon. Notices will be posted in the near future to give casting information.

Opportunities are also available in the play for anyone with musical or dancing interests. Contact the Theatre soon for details.

Planners Meet

The Student Union Planning Board met for the first time this year on September 17. It was voted unanimously that we change the name of the present board to the College Center Planning Board (C.C.P.B.) as this title fits in better with the concept we hold of the new College Center. It will not be geared only for students, but for the whole community — students, faculty, administration, and the community of Salisbury.

The architect that was proposed to the State has been approved by them. Also, there is a change proposed in the site of the new building. More will come on this later. Committee appointments were made and the meeting adjourned.

A COMMUNITY PROGRAM

The College community is invited to a new series of presentations in our community. The use or misuse of power governs almost every phase of contemporary living. To understand this in the light of a religious ethic is the purpose of a study series to be held each Sunday evening in October at Asbury United Methodist Church in Salisbury, Maryland. The program will be held in Fellowship Hall from 7:00-8:30 p.m. This series, The Pattern of Power, will concentrate on four major areas with well qualified speakers to present background information on current trends in thinking on each subject.

On October 7, Elbert N. Carvel, twice Governor of Delaware will speak on "Power in Politics." Not only is he well qualified to speak on Political power, but he can speak about it with religious convictions, and he has served his church — the St. Phillip's Episcopal Church — in many capacities locally, in the Diocese, and as a delegate to the General Convention. He was the first chairman of the Delmarva Ecumenical Agency and remains active on its Board.

On succeeding Sundays the programs will be:

- Oct. 14, The Dissenting Use of Power— William Stringfellow
Oct. 21, Power in Religion — Dean Philip Wogaman
Oct. 28, Power in Business — a panel of local business leaders

Provision will be made for the care of children during the program.

We Are Organizing!

Phi Alpha Theta extends an invitation to all of its members, all social science and history majors and all those interested in the history-social science field to Phi Alpha Theta's organizational meeting on Tuesday, October 9, at 7:00 P.M. in DSH 149. Please attend and bring with you any suggestions for activities for the 1973-74 year.

The stadium holds 4000 people and was full for the first game. Since this is Madison's Homecoming and Parents' Day, they can not guarantee seats for everyone. However, they will guarantee that everyone will get in. Anyone needing overnight accommodations should try Front Royal or Winchester, Virginia, which are about 60 miles from Harrisonburg.

Tell Your Friends

Applications for admission to the undergraduate degree program at Salisbury State College for the Spring semester are now being accepted by the Admissions Office.

Decisions on requests for admission will be made when all supporting documents are received. The candidates will be notified by December 1.

Application packets and additional information about the College may be secured by contacting the Undergraduate Admissions Office.

Fireside Chats

Every Thursday, starting October 4th, there will be a series of "firesides" (lectures) on different aspects of the Bahai Faith. This Thursday's fireside will be on "progressive revelation." These firesides are not only a time for people to find out about the Bahai Faith but a time for people to voice their opinions or philosophies on God and religion. The firesides will be in Room 232, Devilbiss Hall at 7:30 P.M.

Want to Help Kids?

Have you got about three hours a week that you would like to invest in a very worthy endeavor? Can't beat helping kids!

There are inadequate physical therapy services for children (birth to 21 years) in Wicomico County. Lack of funds is the chief problem. Volunteers could really make a difference!! Members of the local community working with crippled children under the supervision of health professionals could bring the needed physical therapy to these children who so badly need it, and otherwise won't get it!

Won't you get involved? The objectives of using volunteers are:

1. To establish a health service for children by using volunteers who are truly interested in working with children.

2. To provide the volunteers with the knowledge and skills necessary to assist these children to reach improved levels of physical performance.

3. To relieve the parents of handicapped children for a few hours per week, should they desire it, by having others take over the care of these children.

Volunteers would work directly with children after adequate training. Some would probably be interested in assisting with making the necessary equipment such as balance boards.

At the outset the Program will be supervised by the State Supervisory Physical Therapist for Crippled Children. The educational program, which would be mandatory for the volunteers working with children, will be conducted by the Chiefs of the Occupational and Physical Therapy Departments of the John F. Kennedy Institute in Baltimore.

If you are interested, please contact Dr. Edmund Delaney, 239 Holloway Hall, Consultant to the State Department of Health, Division of Crippled Children.

Power Through Dissent

One of our most precious liberties in these United States is the power and privilege of free speech no matter whether it be yea or nay. Among our greatest leaders since the first dissenters stepped on American soil have been our great men and women speaking out for the conscience of our Nation.

The second in a series of The Pattern of Power, held in Fellowship Hall of Asbury United Methodist Church, at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, October 14, will be The Dissenting Use of Power. The speaker for this occasion will be William Stringfellow, widely known author, social critic, attorney and theologian. More than a decade before the "war on Poverty" Dr. Stringfellow pioneered as a white lawyer working in the black ghetto. These experiences are related in his best seller, My People Is the Enemy.

He was brought to national attention when indicted for allegedly harboring Father Daniel Berrigan when he was a fugitive. The charges were dismissed and he, in collaboration with Anthony Towne, also indicted and dismissed, wrote a book, Suspect Tenderness, on the ethics of the Berrigan witness.

TIME Magazine has called Dr. Stringfellow, "One of Christianity's most persuasive critics from within." THE NATION said, "Stringfellow is no liberal. He is a radically relevant Christian—an extremely rare species."

As visiting lecturer at leading seminaries, law schools, and universities, he has traveled in sixty-three nations. He is a Guggenheim Fellow and recipient of several honorary degrees. His military service won three commendations. He is a member of the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States as well as of New York and Rhode Island. He is a past deputy attorney general in New York and has served as consultant to local and state commissions on human rights in a dozen different jurisdictions.

Dr. Stringfellow, through his work with hopeless, defiant black prisoners, his military experiences, his friendship with the Berrigan brothers and the late Bishop James Pike, his personal prolonged, urgent struggle to survive a rare and nearly fatal illness have combined to qualify him to speak with authority on the Dissenting Use of Power. He has touched with compassion the deepest wounds of society. With his vast legal knowledge and extraordinary biblical scholarship, Dr. Stringfellow sees healing power available.

SSC in Delaware Arts Festival

The Sussex County Arts Council, presenting its annual festival of the arts in Georgetown, Delaware, in November, has requested the Salisbury State Theatre to contribute a production appropriate to "The Now Tempo", the central theme of the day's events. Dr. Leland Starnes, Director of the Theatre, has announced that the students and faculty have elected to reconstitute several of the short experimental pieces presented last May under the title "Kaleidoscope" and to present them to the festival on November 11. It is likely that Pinter's "Bus Stop", Rechy's "Momma As She Became — But Not As She Was", and van Itallie's "Interview" will be included in the program. Dr. Starnes also confirmed that Karen and Bob Getz, graduated from Salisbury State last June and married in August, will return to Salisbury to join the Theatre for this unique revival.

Student-Faculty Coalition will meet Wednesday, October 17, at 4:00 P.M. in DSH 225.

Indian Exhibit

An exhibition of decorative arts made by North American Indians will be on view at HH Gallery from Monday, Oct. 15 through Friday, November 9. Exhibit hours are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 7 to 9 p.m., Monday through Thursday. Organized by The Baltimore Museum of Art and made possible by a grant from the Maryland Arts Council, the exhibition consists of a selection of beaded and woven decorative objects, emphasizing a mixture of natural and European trade materials, as well as a combination of geometric and naturalistic ornamentation.

Also included are objects which were not made for cultural use. In the past, this kind of object was not usually considered worthy of public exhibition, because it was made for commercial trade. Yet, not unlike China Trade Porcelain, these objects were often well made and decorated with traditional motifs, modified for Western taste. They are well worth serious study in that they were made by Indian artisans skilled in traditional craftsmanship, and are the last high-quality decorative objects made by North American Indians until the recent resurgence of Indian cultural pride and the accompanying renascence of significant American Indian art.

Decorative arts made by North American Indians reflect a resourcefulness in the use of available materials in nature and those materials procured through trade. White men's dyes, cloth and beads were among items sought after by Indians from the time of earliest European contact, as were the more traditional materials of animal skins and fibers, reeds, grasses, root fibers, twigs, quills and berries. From these perishable materials, Indians made clothes, equipment for gathering, carrying and storing food, musical instruments and ritual implements, medicine bundles and temporary shelters. These useful objects were often formed and decorated with an eye toward their inherent beauty — an aesthetic quality increasingly appreciated by white men.

Carvings in wood and stone, made to fulfill decorative and ritualistic functions, are well-known as artistic creations of Indians in America. But these works, along with ceramics, baskets, blankets, garments and personal adornment, were usually produced by tribes which had established urban life styles in villages inhabited throughout the year. Tribes living a nomadic life-style tended to direct their creative energies toward the production of lightweight, unbreakable objects which could be easily transported.

NEW ADVISORY SYSTEM

The College is converting to a voluntary, department-based advisory system in order to provide more adequately for students' needs and to streamline advisory procedures. Most departments will designate an office where folders of each department's majors will be kept. Each student desiring advice will generally go to the department member of his choice and make arrangements to secure his folder and be advised. In addition to providing faculty advisement, each department will strive to maintain pertinent information and requirement changes in one central department office. Students who have not declared a major or those majoring in general Liberal Studies should go to the Academic Counselor's Office, 103 Holloway Hall, for advisement.

NEED TO DECLARE A MAJOR?

Students who have decided upon a major but have not officially declared it should go to the Registrar's Office or to 103 Holloway Hall so that official changes can be made. Declaring a major at this time may facilitate advisement at pre-registration time.

Air Force Officer's Qualifying Test - Oct. 24

The Officer's Qualifying Test for admission to the advanced Air Force ROTC program will be given at the UMES campus on Wednesday, October 24, in Kiah Hall, Room 1206, beginning at 8:00 a.m. The test will continue until approximately 4:00 p.m. with a one-hour break for lunch.

Students planning to take the test are requested to inform either Mr. Bachman's office, Caruthers Hall, Room 23, or the AFROTC office at UMES (ph. 651-2216) not later than Tuesday, October 23. There is no charge for the test and students taking it are under no obligation to the Air Force or the AFROTC program. Excused absence from classes for those taking the test, will be authorized by Dean Robinson's office as needed and should be requested prior to the test date.

The Officer's Qualifying Test is similar to the SAT but may be taken only once during a twelve-month period. The test is normally administered twice each year and was given on campus last semester in early December. Successful completion of the test, the subsequent physical exam, and the summer camp experience establish the student's eligibility to enter the advanced AFROTC program which begins with the fall semester of the junior year. Both men and women students are eligible for the program which offers a tax-free subsistence allowance of $100.00 per month during the final two years of college. Those accepted are also eligible to compete for one of more than 6,000 AFROTC scholarships.

Further information is available either from Mr. Bachman on campus or from the AFROTC Department at UMES — Phone 651-2216.

This continues the series of The Pattern of Power, a most timely subject for our day. Both former Governor Carvel and Dean Wogaman, the two previous speakers, stressed the importance of high ethical standards in our personal lives as the positive use of the power within all of us. They also suggested strongly that we let those in public office and in places of authority know that we expect them to use power for good and in such case can expect our support.

Dr. William Stringfellow, who was grounded in a high wind storm over New England last weekend and unable to be here, will speak on The Dissenting Use of Power at Asbury Church on December 9.

FOOTBALL INFORMATION

Tickets for our Homecoming game with American University on Sat. may be picked up at the College Center at meal-times or Tawes Gym at other times. Every student is entitled to one ticket free. Be sure to get your tickets early to insure getting one.

The same story will go for the Towson State game on November 10. You may pick up your ticket beginning Monday at the same locations. Here's your last chance to see the 1973 Sea Gulls!

Work on "Wait Until Dark", the taut drama of suspense being produced by the Salisbury State Theatre is nearing completion.

The play, written by Frederick Knott ("Dial M for Murder"), deals with an ingenious plot to get a fortune in drugs from an innocent blind girl's apartment by means of an elaborate con game. The shocking climax has been acclaimed by critics as the most exciting of recent years.

Lisa Lawson plays the blind heroine Susy, and Paul Pfeiffer is the criminal leader Harry Roat, who will kill in order to get his fiendish way. The play will be presented Nov. 9, 10 and 14 through 17 in Caruthers Hall Auditorium. Students and faculty may obtain tickets free of charge from the box office by presenting their ID cards. The box office will be open 12 to 5 in Caruthers Hall, ext. 207.

ATTENTION ROAD RUNNERS

The Geographic Society will be sponsoring a road rally this Saturday morning, November 3rd. A donation of $2.00 for car, driver and navigator will be asked, and proceeds will go towards the proposed campus bike shed. There will be a $15.00 cash prize for the winning car. Rules will be available at the starting point in Devilbiss parking lot from 9 to 11:30. Information can be obtained by getting in touch with Dick VanGelder, Box 985 in the Union.

THRILLER OF A LIFETIME!

WAIT UNTIL DARK

By FREDERICK KNOTT

Students and faculty who have not yet picked up their complimentary tickets for Wait Until Dark, the spine-tingling drama of suspense now being presented by the Salisbury State Theatre, may do so between the hours of 12:00 and 5:00 at Caruthers Hall. The production will continue through Saturday, November 17, and curtain time is at 8:30 p.m. in Caruthers Hall.

Dr. Starnes, Director of the Theatre, says that the production is a nightly challenge for its actors who employ switchblades, gasoline, matches, electrical fuses, heroin, and even the kitchen icebox in a battle to the death; thus far, he says knocking the nearest wood, "the only mishaps have been a few bruises and a couple of knicks from the famous knife — named Geraldine — who figures importantly in the play. And there was one night when we all held our breath when we realized that Lisa Lawson, playing the blind heroine, had picked up the real McCoy instead of the harmless prop knife when she was about to do a real carving job on Paul Pfeiffer, who plays the colorful psychopathic killer."

ROAD

In a caravan consisting of two trucks, a VW bus, and three passenger cars, the Salisbury State Theatre took to the road last Sunday, November 11, and carried three short plays to the Sussex County Arts Festival in Georgetown, Delaware. Performing on an arena stage arranged in the gymnasium of Delaware Technical and Community College, the troupe presented Harold Pinter's Bus Stop, John Rechy's Momma As She Became — But Not As She Was, and Jean-Claude van Itallie's Interview, all a part of last April's production, Kaleidoscope, which was presented here in Holloway Hall. The only casualty among the group of twenty students and faculty participating in the production was Robert K. Cloyd, who suffered a broken foot while he and Tom Clemens were setting up the stage at the Community College. Mr. Cloyd, continuing business as usual on crutches for the next eight weeks, swears he will spend Christmas vacation on skis, "no matter what they say."

NEWS RELEASE:

President Norman C. Crawford of Salisbury State College announced the appointment of Dr. Maurice W. Bozman as Associate Chairman of the Department of Education. Dr. Bozman will begin his duties immediately.

Dr. Bozman's appointment is in recognition of the continued growth of majors, courses, and community involvement of the Education Department as well as the growth of the Graduate Program in Education.

It is Salisbury State College's intention to continue to expand present offerings in education for the teachers of the Eastern Shore.

Dr. Bozman's primary responsibilities in his new position will include the co-ordination of elementary and secondary school teaching and supervision. He will have the responsibility for creating policy and implementing policy in this area. WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

William Stringfellow

William Stringfellow, noted author, lecturer, attorney and prominent churchman, will speak at Asbury United Methodist Church, Sunday, December 9, at 7:00 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. Dr. Stringfellow was scheduled to speak earlier but was grounded in New England because of a severe storm. He will speak on "The Dissenting Use of Power," a subject on which he is most qualified.

Dr. Stringfellow has combined the finest education available in this country and abroad with a profound Christian commitment based on the deepest theological study and put them both together in personal performance. He began his career in Harlem's East Side where he lived, worked and agonized with the people in this country's most overcrowded slum area.

He knows the difference between the frustrated temper tantrum of people who do not get what they want and the desperate dissent of dehumanized human beings existing under intolerable situations. From such dissent has come the greatest advancements of society through the ages. From such dissent our beloved country was born. Upon the Greatest Dissenter of all time our Christian faith was born.

The public is cordially invited to attend this worthwhile lecture and discussion.

Danforth Scholarship Hopefuls

The Danforth Screening Committee at SSC recently announced that it had recommended to the Foundation two campus students for scholarship consideration: Miss Stephanie Smith, a psychology major, and Mr. David Alls, in the math department. Both students are from Salisbury, Maryland.

Free Passes for Faculty & Staff

Complimentary passes for all SSC basketball and wrestling events at the college may be picked up at the Athletic Office beginning immediately. Eligible for "comps" are all faculty and staff personnel.

Come to the Bandorama

Set aside one and one-half hours on Monday evening, December 10 at 8:30 P.M. for the 2nd Annual SSC BANDORAMA, an event which features the three instrumental music organizations on campus. As Holloway Hall Auditorium is unavailable due to heating renovation, the concert will be held in the Dining Hall of the Memorial Student Union.

The Salisbury State College Jazz Ensemble, a 23-member organization, will open the program, featuring a broad spectrum of jazz — Benny Goodman to the Beatles.

At the conclusion of the marching season, the Instrumental Ensemble quickly transforms into a Concert Band, stressing a musical repertoire indicative of this medium. Likewise, in an effort to provide a program which is educationally sound as well as appealing to a wide variety of musical tastes, this group will offer selections from Haydn and Schubert to Simon and Garfunkel.

An exciting conclusion to the evening of instrumental music will occur when the SSC Marching "Sea Gulls" move indoors with a presentation of highlights of the "Sounds and Sights of the Stadium, 1973." If you missed the halftime shows this past season or want to recapture some of these sights and sounds, don't miss this program. Be with us as the majorettes, flag corps, and cheerleaders join the marching band for a rousing finish to the Fall semester, 1973.

Now is the time to think of your Spring trip to EUROPE for 1975. Come with us and see the splendors of Classical Greece; cruise through the Aegean Isles and the Dardanelles, thoroughfare of antiquity; visit Istanbul, historic site of two great empires; travel the countryside of Bulgaria, Rumania, Hungary and Yugoslavia, the cultural shatter belt of Europe. Tour a corner of the world always interesting and frequently exotic.

EUROPEAN FIELD STUDY '75 will be conducted jointly by the Departments of Geography, History and Art and will give especial treatment to the art, architecture, history and the natural and cultural landscapes of GREECE and the BALKANS.

The program is offered for up to six semester hours of undergraduate or graduate credit. Participants may also enroll on a non-credit basis.

Conducted by professors R. Thompson, K. Kimmel and E. Farace, the program is open to all college students, faculty, alumni and friends of the College.

Registration for the minimester courses should be completed on Friday, December 14 by noon. It may be possible to add a minimester course after this period, but it would be most helpful if those students who intend to participate in the minimester would meet the noon deadline. Registration will take place in the office of the Registrar. Cost per credit hour will be $25 for undergraduate credit plus $10 registration fee; out-of-state students will, of course, have to pay out-of-state rates. "YOU'RE A GOOD MAN CHARLIE BROWN"

Good grief! If you haven't made your reservations for tickets to "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" yet, you should do it at the Box Office in Caruthers Hall right away! The Salisbury State Theatre's production of the famous musical based on Charles Schulz's "Peanuts" cartoon characters will be given only three performances December 13 through 15, with a special children's matinee on Sunday afternoon, December 16. Seating is therefore extremely limited, so the following regulations must apply: students and faculty may reserve one complimentary ticket at the Box Office any day between 12:00 and 5:00. Complimentary tickets may actually be picked up, however, only on the evening of the performance, between 7:30 and 8:00. Advance sales are high, so members of the College community are urged to reserve their seats early.

WANT TO BE A MODEL?

The Art Dept. will interview any student interested in being hired to model for the Spring Semester course in Drawing II. The course will meet on Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 A.M. to 10:50 A.M. Normal student wages will be paid. Contact Mr. Kimmel.

SCOUTING TODAY IS MORE THAN EVER

If you want to do something interesting and rewarding with your spare time, then possibly being a scout leader is the answer. There is a need for scout leaders in every age group. Both men and women could be den leaders for the Glen Avenue School Cub Scouts and troop leaders for the Booth Street Housing Development.

There are three divisions of scouts. Cub Scouts are 8-10 years old and primarily work with crafts and games. They have meetings of dens every 1-2 weeks. Each month is centered around a theme which is developed. The next division is scouting. This group is 11-18 years old and they center on hiking, camping, and developing adult skills. Men are needed who are willing to serve as advisors and to act as examples. Explorers is the last group of scouting. These are young men of 15-18 years old. Concentration is placed on job and hobby interests. People who are willing to serve and might have any specialized field are needed.

No experience is required and any temporary or permanent help is welcome. The only requirement is that you want to work with young boys and men. Training is available. If you are interested, contact Stephanie Olson, Chairman of the Volunteer Services, Box 314 S.U.B., or phone 742-5000.

Remember, scouting today is more than ever.

AUDITIONS BEGIN

Celebration

The Salisbury State Theatre, in happy collaboration with the Department of Music, is ready once again to begin work on its major Broadway musical for the year. Casting for Celebration, the lyrical fantasy which Clive Barnes of the New York Times called "a new kind of musical," will begin on Friday, January 18, in Caruthers Hall; all interested members of the College community are urged to come and audition. Celebration, with a score ranging from rock to rhumba, was created by the same team of writers who produced The Fantasticks and I Do! I Do! and the SSC production of the upbeat musical will take place in March.

All persons interested in auditioning for the production should prepare a song—preferably from Celebration—and appear at Caruthers Hall with music in hand between 7:30 and 10:00 on January 18, 19, 20, or 21. Xerox copies of several of the songs from the show are obtainable from Dr. Starnes in 272B Holloway or from Ray Zeigler in the Music Building.

"YOU'RE A GOOD MAN CHARLIE BROWN"

So good, in fact, that it looks like we can't keep him down. Reaction to the Salisbury State Theatre's production of You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown has been so favorable that the faculty and staff have decided that it will be possible to revive the production for three additional performances on January 25 and 26. Evening performances on those dates will begin at 8:30, and another special children's matinee is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, January 26, at 2:30. Tickets will again be available for the College community at the box office in Caruthers Hall during the week of January 20.

MEN —

DO YOU LIKE TO SING?

Join the male singing "group". It may be a quartet, octet or glee club, but it's for men only. We'll sing the old favorites, some of the current hits, show tunes, and even some barbershop melodies. Rehearsals will be scheduled to suit the convenience of the members. If you are interested, see Mrs. Russell in the Music Department - MAC.

Any person in the College community interested in trying out for a part in the musical Celebration and having not yet done so can still get under the wire.

Last minute auditions can still be arranged by seeing Dr. Leland Starnes in 272B, Holloway Hall (or on extension 254) or by simply appearing in Caruthers Auditorium anytime on Friday evening between 7:30 and 10:00.

"Everybody is welcome," says Dr. Starnes, "and we're particularly interested in seeing people with athletic and/or acrobatic talents; we're going to have a special thing going for them in this unusual musical."

SSC Participates in 2nd Annual Eastern Intercollegiate Band

Three members of the SSC Concert Band will perform when the Second Annual Eastern Intercollegiate Band plays in the Tawes Auditorium at the University of Maryland Saturday evening, January 26. The Salisbury members are: Mark Koppelman, senior clarinetist; Glenn Miles, freshman tubist; and Kenny Martin, freshman percussionist.

The Eastern Intercollegiate Band is open for membership to all college and university bands in Washington, D.C., Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Delaware, Southern New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and parts of New York. Participants are selected upon the recommendation of their school director and musical training and background.

The concert is held in conjunction with the Eastern Division Band Directors meeting at which other outstanding groups perform; i.e., The United States Marine Band, the University of Maryland Symphony Band, Frostburg State College Symphonic Band and the Maryland Junior High School All-State Band.

The conductors of the intercollegiate group will be Mr. James Nielson of the Leblanc Music Corporation and Mr. James Ferguson, director of the University of Alabama "Million Dollar Band."

The production is under the direction of Anthony Capputto of Beaver, Pennsylvania, who directed the opera heard here last year and who has directed in the vicinity of Pittsburgh for many years.

Tickets are $1.50 for students and $4.50 for other adults, and family tickets are available at $10.00.

Patrons of the opera are appreciated. Sponsorships are $5.00 to $24.00; sustaining memberships are $25.00 to $44; benefactors' contributions are $45 and up.

Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Robert Elderdice, tel. 2-3134, or Mrs. A.L. Fleming, tel. 2-1365, or SSC, ext. 294.

The opera will be presented in the auditorium of Wicomico Junior High School on Saturday night, March 16, and in Easton, Maryland, on Friday night, March 15. Tickets may be used for either performance.

CONGRATULATIONS! . . .

"YOU'RE A GOOD MAN CHARLIE BROWN"

If you missed Charlie Brown and the rest of the Peanuts gang when they played their successful run of the musical You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown before Christmas, now's your chance.

Salisbury State Theatre's production of this popular musical will be revived for three performances on Friday and Saturday, January 25 and 26. Evening performances will be at 8:30, and another special children's matinee will be performed at 2:30 on Saturday.

The SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE WEEKLY NEWSLETTER is published weekly for students, faculty, administration and staff as a communications medium under the direction of the Public Relations Office. Deadline for reception of news is Monday, Noon.

Big Attraction on Sunday

Free tickets are available at the College Bookstore for a performance by The National Theatre of the Deaf. The National Theatre of the Deaf will have one engagement at Salisbury State College in Tawes Gym on Sunday, January 27, 1974, at 8:00 P.M.

This is the 17th major NTD production which includes productions such as: Gianni Schicci; The Tale of Kasane, a Japanese Kabuki play; the Chekhov monologue, On the Harmfulness of Tobacco; two poetry sections, Blueprints and Tyger! Tyger! and Other Burnings; Songs from Milkwood (an adaptation of Dylan Thomas' Under Milkwood), Moliere's Sganarelle; Journeys, a collection of writings by children; Georg Buchner's Woyzeck; My Third Eye; and Gilgamesh, a theatre piece created by the Company from the Sumerian legend.

The Company will present a new work now being added to its repertoire, Optimism or The Misadventures of Candide.

This production is drawn from Voltaire's sardonic masterpiece, Candide, and illuminates the hilarious and harrowing misadventures of the eternal innocent abroad in a wicked and hostile world.

The government's reasons for financing the Company were to bring better theatre to the deaf community, to create pride among the deaf by proving that they can contribute a valid art form of their own to the community, and to correct misconceptions about these gifted people.

Students and faculty may reserve the usual complimentary ticket at the box office in Caruthers any day this week between 12:00 and 5:00. Again, however, because advance sales for this popular musical are so heavy, the Theatre Box Office Manager must request that complimentary tickets be picked up only on the day of the performance, no later than a half-hour before curtain time.

INTERNATIONAL FILM SERIES

Sunday, Feb. 17
DH Auditorium

Federico Fellini, "Fellini-Satyricon"
(Italy, 1970)

Some approved, some didn't, but there was a general critical consensus of bemused outrage when Fellini released his most indulgent—and perhaps his most inventive—film at the end of an indulgent decade. "In the course of two hours and seven minutes," Stefan Kanfer writes, "images, totems, and archetypes rise and burst like hydrogen sulfide bubbles from the marsh of the collective unconscious"—for Kanfer regards this film as "probably the first" Jungian movie, and quotes Jung himself: "If I had taken these fantasies of the unconscious as art, they would have carried no more conviction than visual perceptions, as if I were watching a movie." Who would dare summarize this bizarre extravaganza? With typical clarity Fellini himself best describes it: "a science-fiction trip into the past instead of the future." There can be no doubt: it is a trip!

Medical Technology Program Planned

SSC and Peninsula General Hospital have signed an agreement to co-sponsor a medical technology program. The College's medical technology program awaits final approval by the Maryland Council of Higher Education, which meets in March. Pending this approval, the program will begin in July.

A strong need exists for Baccalaureate trained medical technologists on the Eastern Shore, as well as throughout the nation.

Students in the program will complete three undergraduate years of education with a concentration in the sciences and then, after formal admission to the program, spend their fourth and final year at PGH, where they will complete their last 30 hours in a selective laboratory experience.

The program is under the supervision of Dr. James Norton of the PGH staff. Medical technology students will also be working closely with Mr. Barry Grosky, a medical technologist recently hired by Salisbury State College.

Students interested in more information should contact Drs. Edward Shaffer or Robert Hedeon at SSC. Applications for admission to the program are available from Dr. Norton and/or from the Office of the Academic Dean at SSC. Applications should be filed by April 1. Interviews will be conducted in early April and successful candidates will be notified by April 15, 1974.

WSSC will soon expand its hours. A new program format with more diversity is being constructed. Watch for more details on the WSSC Bulletin Board in the S.U.B.

Art Exhibit

Four Maryland artists will be featured in an exhibition of paintings opening at SSC's Gallery in Holloway Hall from Friday, March 8, through Thursday, April 4, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday (when the college is in session). The artists, through their paintings, convey uniqueness and an approach to abstract imagery indicating a high level of activity and diversity, characterizing contemporary art in Maryland.

Although these four artists—Virginia Jannotta, Keith M. Martin, Sylvia Snowden and Don Swindler—vary a good deal stylistically and are at differing points in their careers, they all view painting as a means for direct, unimpeded personal expression and as a device for communicating concrete ideas and feelings in visual, abstract terms.

Mark Twain at SSC

Holloway Hall Auditorium will be the scene of a hilarious re-creation of one of America's most appealing and stimulating personalities, Mark Twain, as the College Center Program Board presents John Chappell transformed by the magic of the theatre into "Mark Twain On Stage," scheduled to open at 8 P.M. on Wednesday, March 20.

Tickets for the theatre portrayal of this lovable old curmudgeon can be obtained at the Bookstore on your return from vacation.

FILM CENSORSHIP AND THE MEDIA

A Lecture/Discussion by award-winning British Film-maker

PETER WATKINS

Monday, 18 March 1974, Devilbiss Science Hall Auditorium, 7-10:30 p.m.

Organized by Jim Welsh and sponsored by the Salisbury State College English Department and the College Center Program Board

- 7 p.m. Film Screening: PUNISHMENT PARK (USA 1970). "Set within the framework of an escalating 'law and order' repression in the United States (being the official response to protest against an escalating war in South-East Asia), the film is, in fact, a complex allegory pinpointing the increasing psychic tension in Western society, which manifested itself in the form of violent polarization within the United States, as well as in the form of genuine political and social repression. The film was bitterly denounced by the American press as a 'fantasy' and 'futuristic nonsense.' This was two years prior to the Watergate affair."
- 8 p.m. Peter Watkins in person, discussing PUNISHMENT PARK and the issue of media censorship: "At a seminar for American public television producers and executives, held near New York City, it was decided -- by vote -- that none of those present would show the film on their own station." Watkins considers this "one of the first cases in the history of the American cinema where a film has been banned by the industry in toto."

BIOGRAPHICAL NOTE: Peter Watkins was born in Britain in 1935. As an independent film-maker, he made a series of anti-war films in the late 1950's. His third film in this series, DIARY OF AN UNKNOWN SOLDIER (1959) was televised by the BBC. His first professional film, CULLODEN, was financed by the BBC in 1964 as a television documentary concerning the destruction of the Scottish Highland Clans after the Jacobite Uprising of 1745. His next film, THE WAR GAME (1965) was also made for television and attempted to show the hypothetical effects of a thermonuclear attack on Britain. The BBC lacked the courage, however, to show this film on television, perhaps because of direct influence from the British Home Office. The "official" reason given was that the film "lacked compassion." THE WAR GAME is one of the most widely circulated documentaries ever made and earned Mr. Watkins international acclaim as well as an Academy Award Oscar (in 1966).

Thereafter Watkins made PRIVILEGE in 1966 for Universal Pictures in London, which featured Paul Jones and Jean Shrimpton. This film--an allegory highlighting "the increasing attempts by public media to divert attention from the most serious issues of our society"--shared with Antonioni's BLOW-UP the International Federation of Cine-Clubs Prix at Cannes. It was followed in 1968 by THE GLADIATORS, "an allegory dealing with the present maintenance of international tension by the various national 'systems' in the Western World."

Watkins himself describes PUNISHMENT PARK as "a political allegory dealing with repression and polarization within the United States." His lecture will discuss "the part played by the triple force of producer-critic-distributor within the United States in weakening--if not entirely destroying--the political cinema which to some degree had its genesis within the protest movement of the mid-sixties," as well as "the far-reaching effects of today's mass-media--especially television--which," he believes, "is now doing incalculable damage to the mass-psyché in the Western World." Seldom does a talent of Mr. Watkins' stature appear in our area. Please plan to attend and participate in the discussion. He deserves a good audience.

ADDITIONAL SCREENING: Sunday, 3 March, HH Aud., 9:30 p.m. (to follow Bergman's HOUR OF THE WOLF either PRIVILEGE or CULLODEN. PRIVILEGE concerns a fantastically popular rock singer whom the government uses as a figurehead for a religious revival designed to castrate disaffected youth.)

Change in M.Ed. Degree Requirement

Dr. William H. Wroten, Director of Graduate Studies, has announced that upon recommendation of the Graduate Council, the Graduate Faculty of the College at its recent meeting voted to abolish the Graduate Record Examination as a requirement for the Master of Education degree at this institution.

Heretofore, scores on both the GRE Aptitude Test and one Advanced Test were among requirements for admission to candidacy for the M.Ed. degree. This requirement has now been abolished, and students who had planned to take the GRE in fulfilling M.Ed. degree requirements need no longer do so.

Hear Ye! and Rejoice with Us

The Social Welfare Program, begun by the Department of Sociology in 1970, has received formal approval by the Council on Social Work Education. Sociology majors taking the Social Welfare Program will graduate with an AB degree in Sociology-Social Welfare and transcripts can be stamped with some designation, such as: Approved by CSWE, Equivalent of BASW Degree.

Credit must be given to Dr. Shope, who fathered the idea, to Mr. Bandyk who led the faculty in its preparation for and attainment of the coveted accreditation, to Ms. Morris and Mr. Aldrich who did so much of the work, and to the Sociology faculty that gave the broad, supportive courses required by CSWE for accreditation and for the liberal arts degree.

Senior, Social Welfare students expecting to graduate are asked to suggest to Dr. Shope the phrase they would like to have stamped on their transcripts.

SEMINAR ON FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT

(Thursday, March 28th, 7:30 p.m.)

The range of federal positions is as wide as private industry. Federal positions afford salaries comparable to private business with cost of living increases, plus many fringe benefits. Veterans have re-employment rights when they return.

The Federal Service Entrance Exam. (FSEE) provides the opportunity for you to be considered for employment upon graduation. The exam can be by-passed if your scholastic achievement is high enough.

Mr. James G. Woodson, District Manager of the Salisbury Social Security Office, will conduct a seminar on Federal employment. He will include a discussion of the FSEE:

He will not be offering jobs, but will have valuable information for all students.

The seminar will be conducted in the Social Room of Holloway Hall. There will be time for questions from the group.

• SSC Women's Progressive Dinner

The house assignments and times will be sent through campus mail on Thursday, March 28. If, for some reason, you do not receive a notice, the master list will be available at the switchboard in Holloway Hall on Saturday, March 30.

• FBI SPEAKER

Mr. Joel A. Carlson, Special Agent from the Computer Systems, Division of the FBI, will address the students of Soc. 317, CRIME AND DELINQUENCY, and other interested students, in DSH — 229, April 3, 1974. Mr. Carlson will give a formal presentation, starting at 3 o'clock, on the technology utilized by the Bureau in the tabulation of crime statistics. At 4:00 a semi-social discussion is scheduled. Any interested students may participate.

• SUN WORSHIPPERS

The weather might be cool BUT the sun will be hot.

It's your skin but don't fry it.

For a "Good Tan":

1. Use sun screening lotion or cream.
2. First exposure should be no more than 15 (fifteen) minutes.
3. Then cover up and wear a hat.
4. Increase exposure only 10 (ten) minutes each per day until your skin becomes conditioned.

Chronic exposure to sunlight has a distinct aging effect on the skin with wrinkles and brown spots especially for blondes and redheads.

Want to go to Canada? Sociology Lab Planned

The American Sociological Association, with a membership of more than 14,000, has invited Salisbury State College to send a team of ten students to its Annual Meeting in Montreal, Canada, August 25 to 30, to demonstrate the Laboratory Method for Teaching Introductory Sociology that was developed by Dr. Shope of the Department of Sociology.

The invitation grew out of the response to a description of the laboratory approach used in PRINCIPLES OF SOCIOLOGY (No. 211). The remark was made by Dr. Shope in a workshop at last year's meeting of the ASA. The sustained interest of the members led to the request that SSC's Laboratory Method be presented at the 1974 Annual Meeting.

The preliminary program calls for a morning presentation by Dr. Shope, and a two-hour demonstration in the afternoon by students of Sociology. Any student who wishes to go to Montreal to join the demonstration team — transportation provided by SSC — should complete the following application.

I WOULD LIKE TO APPLY FOR MEMBERSHIP IN THE DEMONSTRATION TEAM TO GO TO THE 69th ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN SOCIOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION TO BE HELD IN MONTREAL, CANADA. (Please check the items that apply to you.)

- I have taken PRINCIPLES OF SOCIOLOGY, 211, and have been a member of a laboratory group.
- I have taken PRINCIPLES OF SOCIOLOGY, 211, but have NOT been a member of a laboratory group.
- I have not taken Course No. 211, but I have taken MAN AND SOCIETY, 100, and plan to take PRINCIPLES OF SOCIOLOGY.
- I am willing to make the necessary preparation, including rehearsals and the making of videotapes of the laboratory procedures.
- I will be free to go to Montreal, Canada, August 25 to 30 (travel time included).

CONCERT BAND AND JAZZ ENSEMBLE TO PERFORM AT SSC

The SSC Concert Band and Jazz Ensemble, both directed by Charles F. Smith, Jr., Assistant Professor of Music, will offer an early Spring Concert in the auditorium of Holloway Hall on Tuesday, April 9, 1974 at 8:00 p.m.

Recently completing a one-day tour to Smyrna and Dover, Delaware Senior High Schools in an effort to apprise middle Delaware secondary schools of the musical offerings of the Salisbury campus, the instrumental organizations will hopefully continue to enlighten their home community to the expanding cultural opportunities at the college.

The function of the Concert Band during the Spring Semester is radically changed from that of the marching-oriented aggregation of the Fall. Using the vast repertoire of original concert band literature, orchestral transcriptions, new and innovative styles as well as the latest in popular and show music, the members of this select group comprehensively study and rehearse twice weekly toward the ultimate in music creativity, the re-creation of a music composer's work. Attired in their new formal tuxedos and full-length gowns, the 50-member organization will cross-section the musical tastes of the Salisbury listening and audience with a Henry Fillmore march, Suppe's "Morning, Noon, and Night in Vienna Overture", the haunting theme song of Michel LdGrand's "Summer of '42", two original works for concert band, an exciting aleatoric composition for band and tape recorder, "Stargazing" and an early Vincent Youman's Broadway hit, "No, No, Nanette", the vehicle of one of the most lasting popular tunes of all times "Tea for Two."

After a brief intermission the instrumental branch of the Department of Music at SSC will lighten the evening of music with an exciting display of diverse jazz compositions, featuring the newly renamed Jazz Ensemble in a program of jazz, ballad, blues, pop, television and jazz-rock. The students enrolled in this course have been concentrating on two important facets of jazz, knowledge of chord structures and improvisation. Utilizing acquired skills in this medium the Jazz Ensemble will conclude the evening of music with such favorites as Gilbert O'Sullivan's "Alone Again" and an instrumental version of a Blood, Sweat, and Tears' hit, "Hi-De-Ho."

The community of Salisbury is cordially invited and encouraged to attend the evening's program. There is no admission charge.

The SALISBURY STATE COLLEGE WEEKLY NEWSLETTER is published weekly for students, faculty, administration and staff as a communications medium under the direction of the Public Relations Office. Deadline for reception of news is Monday, Noon.

Ponti Recital at Salisbury State

Michael Ponti, a celebrated international performer, will give a piano recital in Holloway Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. on April 23.

Ponti came from a musical household, his father played the piano and his mother was a singer. It was taken for granted that he would take lessons, and at the age of five he began to study the piano. He attracted the attention of Prof. Gilmore MacDonald, former assistant to Leopold Godowsky, with whom he studied in Washington, D.C. from 1943 thru 1955.

At 11, he performed the complete "Well-tempered Clavier" in public. At 14, he won the Stillmon-Kelly Competition for pianists under 18, and placed first in a contest whose prize was seven appearances with the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra.

On his 21st birthday in 1958, he made his first major professional appearance as stand-in, at less than a day's notice, for ailing Andor Foldes, performing the Beethoven Third Concerto to high critical acclaim with the Frankfurt Radio Orchestra. Since his first professional performance, Ponti has expanded his repertoire and media, performing on Radio, TV and Stage throughout Europe and the Far East, performing Bartok's first and second Piano Concerto and many other Modern Musical Masterpieces to critical acclaim.

WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

WSSC will sponsor the last coffee house this semester in the MSU snack bar area at 8 p.m., Wednesday, May 1.

Thank You

The staff and management of WSSC wishes to heartily thank President Norman C. Crawford, Jr., Deans Stewart and Erskine, Dr. Robert Wesley and the S.G.A. for allowing us to make WSSC the best station in Salisbury this year. A special thanks goes to Dr. Kenneth Wilkerson, our advisor, who has guided us, since January 1973, in creating a highly successful service organization.

This past year we have tried to provide information to the students as well as progressive, popular, soul, jazz, classical and educational programming. Without the backing of the S.G.A. and the Communication Arts Department, we could not have served the campus community.

Steve Shriner

The Sociology 312 class, Formal Organizations: Bureaucracy and Change, under the direction of A. K. Talbot, Jr., Associate Professor of Education and Sociology, journeyed to Washington, D.C. on Thursday, April 18, to visit the National Education Center and observe a large bureaucratic organization in operation.

The purpose of the trip was to provide the class with information and insights into how one of the nation's largest professional organizations functions, regarding the major aspects of a typical bureaucratic organization — structure, organizational goals, program, governance, evaluation of product, and the power structure.

About the original New York production of the play in 1970, Martin Gottfried, writing in the "Women's Wear Daily" said: "This must be the most satisfying evening in the city. The play is filled with good writing — power, feeling and interest. The play is as open and vulnerable as the science-minded daughter, there is a tender quality inside it. The comic writing — brutally funny dialog encompassing sarcasm, pain and bite — is especially good because it comes straight from character."
